Luke is a Commercial silk whose practice encompasses insurance and reinsurance, international trade, energy, sale of goods, banking, commercial contracts, and shipping. He won Shipping Silk of the Year at the Chambers UK Bar Awards 2023, and previously won Shipping Silk of the Year at the Legal 500 Awards 2018 and Chambers UK Bar Awards, 2014. Luke is ranked by Chambers UK, Legal 500 UK, Chambers Global and the Legal 500 Asia Pacific legal directories. He has been described by the directories as: "...exceptional. He is very commercially minded and will go the extra mile" (Chambers UK) and "...he's charming but at the same time incisive. He really drills down to the bottom of points..."; "...exceptionally bright and very good on his feet. He is a master of getting the tone and the content of his delivery just right no matter the audience..." (Chambers UK).

Luke is often called in to handle the highest value, most complex claims, involving coordinating large teams of experts and has acted on many precedent-setting cases in the High Court, and Court of Appeal. Recent examples of his work as counsel include acting for the Malaysian Government in the LCIA arbitration and the Commercial Court in respect of US$ 5 billion 1 MbD fraud to set aside previous arbitration awards on the basis of fraud and conflict of interest.

Given the frequently international dimension of his practice, Luke has extensive experience in dealing with foreign law and multi-jurisdictional disputes. In particular he frequently acts in arbitrations with a cross-border element and is experienced in making applications to the High Court in support of English arbitrations and also in support of foreign arbitrations in the English courts and advises on the enforcement of awards under the New York Convention.

Before coming to the Bar, Luke worked with a firm of international Lloyd's brokers and then with a multi-national underwriting company. This experience in the London and International Markets assists with his practical and commercial approach to disputes whilst maintaining the intellectual rigour for which he is well-known.
